Girls Thrill Gym Crowd In Hot Game

Games Between Pickup
Teams Ends In Score
Of 48 To 17

Highlighted by exhibitions of individually brilliant play, two pick-up teams of girl basketballers last Thursday evening clashed in a thrilling game in the gymnasium of the Congregational Church. Although play ended with a score of 48 to 17, the game was anything but one-sided, with players of both teams frequently bringing spectators to their feet by exciting bits of action.

High point "man" for the evening was Edith Hawks, captain and guard of the losing team. Few casualties resulted from the match, even though the spirited play put competitors on the floor at frequent intervals. A bump but not a black eye was received by Dot Ranahan while Irene Mid-dough today sported a "piquant patch" on her forehead.

In some recapitulations of the game Miss Middough was credited with having tabbed her opponents goal for 12 points during her quarter of competition.

The line-ups: Team No. 1, captained by Edith Hawks, Anna and June Lacey, forwards; Dorothy Ranahan and Irene Mid-dough, guards, and Angeline Per-lee, center. Score 17.

Team No. 2, captained by Katherine McBurney, Wilma Morrow and Evelyn Olsen, forwards, Sara Ware, guard, Louise Stamer, center. Score 48.

Another game will be played next Tuesday evening.

Mattoon To Ask For Repeal Of Law Causing Protests

County Counsel Everett Mattoon, father of the act under which millions of dollars of public improvement work has been carried on, played an ace card on the heels of the organization of protesting property owners, by declaring that at the next session of the legislature he will ask for repeal of the law. Mr. Mattoon made the announcement at a meeting of the Associated Realty Boards of Los Angeles, in replying to criticism by previous speakers regarding special assessment evils.

In a statement issued later he said he was opposed to all ill-advised special assessments. He said the statute had been grievously abused by promoters for personal aggrandizement.

Mr. Mattoon's announcement followed a meeting held in the Hotel Clark, Los Angeles, of Las Tunas property owners seeking relief from excessive tax burdens resulting from the widening, improvement and extension of the boulevard through Temple. Judge E. P. Wood, of Montebello, was named chairman of an organization which plans to demand relief from the assessments under the Mattoon act.

MANY LOCAL MEMBERS AT P.T.A. BANQUET

Sierra Madre's P.T.A. will be well represented at the Founders Day banquet to be held February 16 in Pasadena, more than a score of the group already having made reservations through Mrs. Cecily Allen.

The Pasadena meeting will have a double object—celebration of the birth of George Washington, and consideration of the increasingly important matter of curtailment of school expenses without harming present efficiency standards.

Mrs. A. A. Price, president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers will speak of the aims and purposes of the organization and outline the platform for child welfare upon which it functions.

GIVES $100 TO TEMPLE AFTER A VISIT HERE

A farewell party, honoring Mrs. Rose Mitchell and daughter, Jean, of New York, was given on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Mitchell's sister, Mrs. R. A. Ashkenas, 479 Ramona avenue. Mrs. Mitchell has been visiting the Ashkenas family for the past six weeks and Miss Jean Mitchell has been the house guest of her aunt for four months, attending Pasadena Junior College, during her visit. An evening of cards was enjoyed by 25 guests. Before leaving on Saturday night for New York, Mrs. Mitchell donated $100 for drapes for the stage of the Temple Beth Israel and gave a sum to the J.C.R.A., of Duarte. A number of Sierra Madre families escorted her to the train on Saturday.

Observations

—By LEE SHIPPEY—

The finest thing which has appeared in the Los Angeles Times this year was Alma Whitaker's piece about women and war and the League of Nations, in Wednesday morning's paper. If you didn't read it look it up. Will Rogers is a great wise cracker, but he never sized up the international situation half as well as Alma did in that piece.

The idea that the world wants another war is all wrong. Nobody who knows what modern war is wants to see another war. The men who have to go out and die never did start a modern war, and women don't like to have their sons, sweethearts, brothers, fathers or even husbands shot up and gassed and ruined. The wars always have been inspired by those with axes to grind, and in these modern days the inspirers don't do any of the fighting. All we need is laws to absolutely conscript wealth as we now conscript flesh and blood—which is worth just as much as money, even if we don't realize it—the great influence of the Du Ponts, the transportation magnates, the poison gas magnates, the aviation bankers and lenders will be 100 per cent against war—and that influence will be enough to stop it.

That isn't what Alma said. She pointed out that those who cheer at the League of Nations and the efforts of women to bring about world peace are barking up the wrong tree. The League can not yet function instantaneously—it isn't yet ready to adopt France's splendid idea for an international police force, the idea it must inevitably come to—but it is functioning. Joe Eastwood, just back from China, tells me the Chinese boycott cost Japan $90,000,000 in three months. That's nothing to what a League of Nations boycott would cost.

Ain't Gonna Rain No More--Says Our Own Home Town Expert

The storm clouds have worked themselves out, says Col. H. B. Hersey, Sierra Madre's own U.S. weather expert, after taking a look yesterday at his station instruments at his home on Scenic Point.

There may be a few vagrant clouds over the weekend, but there is no rain in sight, and there will be plenty of sunshine, the Colonel says.

The storm, which began on Sunday night, brought 4.56 inches of rain in Sierra Madre, making a total of 22.42 for the season, as compared to 12.36 at this time last year.

FORUM TO HEAR TALK ON HEATHEN TEMPLES

H. G. Creel will speak on "Adventures in Heathen Temples," at the meeting of the Forum next Wednesday, during the second hour period. Dr. Roman is bringing Mr. Creel, and Harold Carew, who had consented to talk on "Radio, Its Blessing and Menace," graciously consented to appear at a later date.

NEW COMMUNITY PLAYERS TO OPEN WORKSHOP AND GIVE PLAY HERE EVERY MONTH

Reorganization Starts Off
With Plans To Enter
Prize Contests

The Sierra Madre Community Players gained a fresh lease on life last Friday night at the Park House, when a special meeting called by W. R. Humphries formulated plans for a complete reorganization and elected a new board of directors. There will be three classes of membership—patron, associate and sustaining. Play production activities will get under way immediately according to Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, new president of the group. The first Friday in every month will be devoted to membership meetings, the third Friday will see plays staged. It is planned to put on nine productions during the year. Of the nine at least one will be a musical, and one a classic, either Shakespeare or a play from the Greek. Activity will include workshop performances and experimental work by those desiring to stage or direct their own plays. With the abundance of talent located

Head Ranger Talks On Fire At Kiwanis

Tells Members How New Highway Will Help
Fight Blazes

Urging that extension of Sturtevant Trail into the Angelus Forest will open up an immense scenic area, and will also be of immeasurable value in combating fire hazards, B. P. Vedder, head government forest ranger, on Tuesday addressed the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Woman's Club House. Mr. Vedder was principal speaker at the luncheon meeting, and voiced a complete approval of the extension plan.

Members of the county engineering department have been conducting a survey of the proposed route of the trail extension, and are reported to be nearly finished. Approval of the plan, and action to aid in the undertaking, was voted by the county board of supervisors last year.

The road would be of inestimable assistance in fighting forest blazes, Mr. Vedder said, and pointed out that rangers at the present time are greatly handicapped in reaching certain sections of the forest reserve.

"It is our duty," he said, "to take care of the people visiting the Angeles National Forest. We try to educate them to the understanding of the rules one must observe to prevent fires. But we cannot contact everyone, and it has been our experience that the ones we do not see, the ones whose education has been neglected, are the ones whose inexperience frequently results in a harmful blaze. That is why I ask that this organization join us in spreading the gospel of fire prevention."

Mr. Vedder also displayed pictures contrasting improper lumbering methods against the methods supported by government forestry experts. The one does great damage, he said, because young growth is killed, while the other provides for future growth of necessary forestation.

Pictures of game and bird life were also exhibited.

Civil Court Now Restored Here And First Suit Filed

For the first time since 1929, when the civil power of the local court was removed by a mistep of the legislature, the barrier was lifted this week and Judge William R. Lasater booked his first case. A letter from State Attorney Webb, in answer to one of inquiry sent by Judge Lasater, informed the latter that the legislature has restored the power and reinstated the civil power to "cities under 30,000, concurrent with that of justice courts."

Under the new in effect now Judge Lasater can hear and decide issues involving $300 or under that sum. The first case filed with him involves the sum of $92.57, and the hearing will be set for next week. Judge Lasater anticipates busy times ahead, now that the way is open for local disposition of civil issues. His jurisdiction is restricted to the corporate bounds of the city and is not able to accept suits that belong in the small claims court.

BUILDING CODE BECOMES A LAW IN THIS CITY

There was no protest or opposition when the City Council on Wednesday considered the ordinance regulating building within the city and providing for its supervision by the city and the measure was made a law by unanimous vote. Its full text appears on page five of this issue of The News.

It had previously been unanimously endorsed by a meeting of the local contractors, by the City Planning Commission and by the Volunteer Fire Department and contains a code standardized by the League of Municipalities that is in effect in over 80 California cities.

Copies of the detailed code are available for inspection at the office of City Clerk Green.

Esperanza Paving Work Gives Jobs

Work on the new paving of Esperanza street was started on Wednesday. In two days the city tractor and grading machinery cleared the way for the workers to begin on the shoulders. With work now available on Esperanza, Bailey Canyon, Canyon Park, the city water basin, and the clearing up of the Central avenue park-mittee's employment department finds a serious problem answered, at least temporarily.

"The committee has worked out a budget," said W. R. Humphries. "There are 100 persons on the list needing employment. There are some who require five days work a month and some who have dependents require 24 days. The budget plan figures out their actual needs, and the work will be distributed accordingly."

"We are also supervising the home budgets of those who receive help. Very few people know how to handle even the little they have to make it go the longest way. We have been able to help many in this way."

Barlow Family Gets Bequests In Mrs. Solano's Will

The will of Mrs. Ella Brooks Solano, mother of Mrs. W. Jarvis Barlow, of Sierra Madre, left nearly $200,000 in specific bequests. Mrs. Solano died on January 21 at Palm Springs. The will was dated February 7, 1931, and contained the following bequests:

William McLean, chauffeur, $2000; Walter Jarvis Barlow Jr., Catherine Lent Barlow, Ella Brooks Barlow McWilliams and Morris Tyler, grandchildren, $25,000 each; four great-grandchildren, $5000 each; Walter Jarvis Barlow and Victor Morris Tyler, sons-in-law, $25,000 each. The residue was ordered divided equally between two daughters, Marion Brooks Barlow, of Sierra Madre, and Jessie Brooks Tyler, of New Haven, Conn.

Appreciation For Service To The Community

THE NEWS acknowledges with thanks the following letter addressed to its publisher:

Sierra Madre, Calif.,
February 10, 1932.
Mr. L. R. Goshorn,
Publisher, Sierra Madre News.

Dear Sir: I have been directed by the Volunteer Fire Department of Sierra Madre to inform you that at a recent meeting, attended by all of its members, a motion was adopted expressing sincere appreciation for the generous support given by you and the Sierra Madre News in all of the undertakings of the department. We are all particularly grateful for the fine co-operation given us in the effort to remember the young and the needy of the city at Christmas and we are sure that the entire community shares the gratitude we feel.

The motion referred to was adopted unanimously and with no little enthusiasm and reflected an often repeated sentiment expressed by the firemen individually.

I wish, personally, to compliment you on the fine enthusiasm with which The News supports all matters looking to the welfare and interest of the city and its people. It is a great boon to the community.

Respectfully yours,
W. D. RICHARDS,
Chief.

Plan Street Of Flowers For Central

Parkways Along Avenue Will Bloom To Greet Olympia Crowds

Detailed plans to make Central avenue, from Sierra Madre avenue to Baldwin, bloom like a rose for the Olympic period, were made Tuesday night, at a meeting of the City Planning Commission. The meeting was attended by representatives of various other organizations, and all joined in the plan to make Sierra Madre an outstanding city beautiful.

The Planning Commission had a full attendance of its members. President Oskar Seeling, Jim Hawks, Mrs. John H. Osgood, Councilman Lester K. Layton and R. S. Corlett, W. R. Humphries represented the Central Relief Committee, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, head of the Garden Section and Miss Virginia Jones, president of the Woman's Club, Fred Griebel, now, the Chamber of Commerce, and Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, the city school.

After a long discussion, covering the funds available it was decided to confine the present work to the improvement of the parkways along Central avenue, by the planting of geraniums and verbenas.

Geraniums were chosen because they offered quick results, and endlessly flowering periods. The Planning Commission guaranteed to look after the upkeep. Mr. Humphries said the Relief Committee would supply the labor.

The work will be started at once. It was suggested that a survey of the entire city be made, so that bad spots and unattractive corners could be brushed up or eliminated. An effort will be made to have removed the charred wreckage of the burned Mr. Wilson Tavern, and another fire ruins in Canyon Park.

PET FOX INVADES TRAP FOR WILD ONE

Somebody's "Foxy" is dead today. Somebody, if they read this, perhaps will break right down and cry.

Foxy, wearing the little chain and collar that proclaimed her somebody's pet, was caught late Wednesday night in a trap belonging to Fred Lalone. Her foreleg had been broken. They had to kill her.

PARTY HONORS BIRTHDAY OF WOMAN TRAIL BLAZER

The 86th birthday of Mrs. Fanny R. Thompson, mother of Mrs. Emily Moyer of 52 East Highland avenue, was celebrated with a family dinner at the Moyer home on Sunday evening. Mrs. Thompson made her first trip from Illinois to California in 1852 in a train of seven wagons outfitted by her father, Col. John J. Parker.

DR. EATON FAMILY WILL MAKE ITS HOME HERE

Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Eaton and family, who have been visiting in Arcadia since December with Mrs. Eaton's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Brookover, have moved to 73 East Central avenue. They plan to make their permanent home in Sierra Madre. Dr. Eaton is a retired physician.

DUCKING THE TOWN MARSHAL IN GOLD RUSH DAYS WAS A SIERRA MADRE DIVERSION

They Packed Guns Here And
The City Was Wrought Up
Over Parking Of Burros

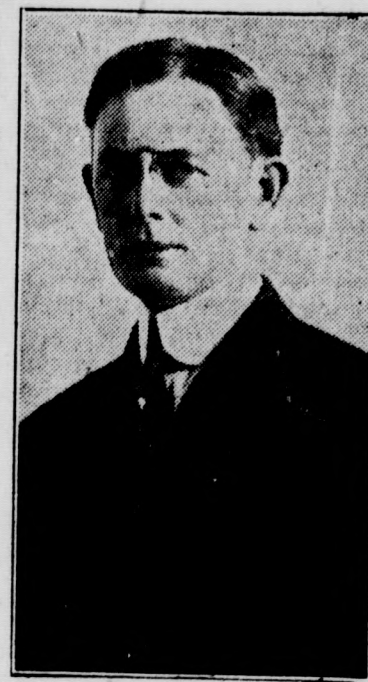

By Bill Burke

Gazing into the charred ruins of the old Mt. Wilson Tavern, an old timer yesterday highlighted a half century of Sierra Madre's history as memories of the past flooded his mind.

Through the reminiscence ran a thread of names—Judge Perry, Bill Corum, "Old Man" Sturtevant, Graham and Yerxa. And the incidents in turn painted a picture of a busy world surrounding a tiny, sleepy old town, whose hottest controversy concerned the parking of burros on city streets—especially on Mt. Trail.

The narrator was C. E. Chantry, whose experiences cover everything from crossing the plains to real estate operators. Sitting on a porch at his Merrill avenue home he said:

Came here in '87
"I came here from Iowa back in '87. It wasn't much of a place then, but later it grew. Now—

Fete Plans Rushed As Vine Warns

Only a few weeks now and Sierra Madre's Wistaria vine will be ready to burst into bloom. Members of the local volunteer fire department who have been divided into various committees are hard at work, and "everything is progressing in fine shape," according to Chief W. D. Richards.

Warning that the blossoming of the vine is near at hand is seen in the fact that buds are beginning to swell, which means they shortly will reach that stage where they burst forth in that blaze of scented and scintillating beauty which has made Sierra Madre universally known as the "Wistaria City."

"Just a little cooler weather—just a little more rain," was the remark of one of the fire eaters, "and the vine will blossom heavier than at any time in its history."

Members of the department are completing clearing of certain portions of the estate that never before have been utilized for the Fete.

Jacob T. Railsback Civil War Veteran Dies At Sautelle

Jacob T. Railsback of 140 South Hermosa avenue, passed away early Tuesday morning at the Sautelle Hospital. He was born October 19, 1845, in Indiana. He was a Civil War veteran and took part in Sherman's march to the sea. He was present when Lincoln gave one of his famous addresses. During the 40 years that he was a conductor on the Missouri Pacific Railway, he made the acquaintance and became a friend of William Jennings Bryan.

He had been a resident of Sierra Madre for over 12 years, coming here with his wife, Mrs. Joan T. Railsback. Before the death of Mrs. Railsback three years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Railsback celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Surviving are four sons, Ted Railsback, of Sierra Madre; John Railsback, of Los Angeles; T. A. Railsback, of Humboldt, Kan., and Bryan M. Railsback, of Ottawa, Kan., and one daughter, Mrs. Agness Tyree of Sierra Madre, with whom he made his home. Mrs. Tyree accompanied the body to Atchinson, Kan., for interment in the family lot beside his wife.

W. J. Lawless Goes Back To City Council

Former Mayor Chosen To Fill
Vacancy Created By Resignation Of P. W. Senour

Former Mayor William J. Lawless was returned to the City Council at a meeting of that body on Wednesday night when the resignation of Phillip W. Senour was received and accepted. No other name was presented for the vacancy and Mr. Lawless was chosen by the unanimous vote of the four remaining members. He immediately took the oath of office and again assumed his place at the Council table, later voting for final passage of the new building code.

The resignation of Mr. Senour, recently chosen as the successor of Ralph W. Stewart, said that since he became a member of the Council there had been a change in his business affairs that no longer permitted him to give the time necessary to the duties of a Councilman. He said he had enjoyed his membership and regretted the fact that it was necessary to withdraw. On the motion of W. O. Preston the resignation was accepted and at the suggestion of L. K. Layton a resolution was spread upon the minutes thanking Mr. Senour for his services to the community and expressing the regret of his colleagues over his departure from the Council table.

William Lees, seconded by Mr. Layton, placed the name of Mr. Lawless in nomination and he was quickly elected.

Mr. Lawless was made a member of the Council and elected Mayor in 1928. Following the special election in May of 1929 when Henry Isaacs and Joseph Belohlavek were recalled because of the public's dissatisfaction with their conduct of municipal affairs, Mr. Lawless resigned.

"I resigned at that time," said Mr. Lawless last night, "in order that the new Councilmen just chosen by the people might have a free hand in the carrying through of the policies they advocated during the campaign preceding the recall election. It seemed to me to be the fair and reasonable thing to do under the circumstances."

Mr. Lawless has been a resident of Sierra Madre since 1910, coming here from Los Angeles. He resides at 506 West Grand View avenue.

The Council approved warrants for somewhat more than $9,000 and referred to Business Manager Myers a communication from the Canyon Improvement Association asking for the construction of a new bridge over the Little Santa Anita wash on Sturtevant Road, for the repair of the bridge on Woodland Drive, for the adoption of an ordinance that would limit the weight of trucks traversing the new Canyon roads and for the repair of Holly Trail, which was said to be unsafe for travel.

At its adjournment the Council fixed next Wednesday evening as the time of its next meeting.

AMERICANS AMPLY PROTECTED IN CHINA MISS SEELEY CABLES

A cable stating that adequate protection is being afforded the International Settlement, Cathay Mansion, Shanghai, was received from Miss Helen Seeley, niece of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Welsher and Miss Mattie Seeley of this city, who have undergone some anxiety as to her welfare in Shanghai.

GIN CHOW PROMISES BAD WEATHER DURING BIG ORANGE SHOW

There is rejoicing with only one little disturbing factor about the National Orange show which opened yesterday at San Bernardino. Gin Chow, the Chinese weather prophet, says its going to rain in torrents during the show.

MANY WIN PRIZES AT EASTERN STAR PARTY

A very successful card party was enjoyed on Saturday evening at the Masonic Temple, 33 East Central avenue. The Social Club of the Order of the Eastern Star sponsored the affair with Mrs. Blanche Buie as chairman for the evening. Assisting Mrs. Buie were Mrs. Wammock, Mrs. Agnes Tyree, Mrs. Mattie Cuddy and Mrs. Harriet Buckingham. Those fortunate enough to win prizes were Mrs. George Mesecar, Mrs. Lida P. Grant, Mrs. L. V. Heims, Mrs. Albert Wheeling, Tallman Trash, Miss Dorothy Wammock, Mrs. A. J. Walker, Mrs. Della Grain, Joseph Michaels, Charles Heath and John Buchan.

Hot Lead

By Judge W. R. Lasater

APRIL will soon be here. The month of smiles, tears and political crepe hanging.

If this wet weather continues much longer, our "City Dads" are contemplating a ferry service for Baldwin avenue in the vicinity of Vint Fleming's feed store.

Ezra Pickett has added a good line of rubber rafts and life preservers to his usual stock of auto supplies.

Art Embree is fast developing a case of web feet, "a la duck."

due to much fording of swollen streams, along his mail route.

Like the winter bear, Heinie Olsen is hibernating. Perhaps he will show again when the weather warms a bit.

How many of our members have sold their quota of Dance tickets? Comrade Embree is especially anxious that this affair be entirely successful, both socially and financially, so let's have a good report when called upon.

All ex-service men who have not re-registered under the new law will do well to give this matter your immediate attention. You will find a deputy at the City Hall at any hour of the day, Sundays excepted.

Council Asked To Replace Bridge In Canyon Park Area

Construction of a new bridge over the Little Santa Anita wash on Sturtevant Road in Sierra Madre Canyon and enactment of a new motor vehicle tonnage ordinance governing roads in the Canyon, has been requested of City Council by the Canyon Improvement Association.

In addition to asking that vehicles over five tons be prohibited on Canyon roads, the association at a meeting last week also set under way a program to remove some of the old and dilapidated buildings now standing in the Canyon. A committee, consisting of Gordon Wolfe, chairman, E. E. George and W. C. Ravensing, was appointed to survey feasibility of the proposal.

Another committee of which Mrs. J. P. Nash is chairman was appointed to confer with County Assessor Ed. W. Hopkins in an effort to prevent an increase in the county tax rate.

Thirty members of the improvement group attended the meeting, held in the Sierra Madre Canyon Clubhouse. President Phillip Scanlon, presided.

Women OK City's Plan For Relief

County Organization Praises Handling Of Unemployment Here

The reports at the meeting of the Women's Division for Unemployment Relief for Los Angeles County, held in the Chamber of Commerce Building in Los Angeles last Thursday, brought out many interesting plans and different viewpoints, according to Mrs. Jessica Wright, who attended as representative from Sierra Madre.

The reports from the large cities, such as Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale and Alhambra dealt with the relief afforded women. From the smaller communities the reports showed the relief for both men and women was largely handled by the same agencies.

Mrs. Wright, in commenting on the meeting said: "I was much interested in the provision being made for unemployed women in the larger cities. It consisted primarily of jobs created as helpers in social service organizations, the pay coming from the relief committee through private contributions, except in Los Angeles, where the committee succeeded in obtaining $22,000 from the city. The workers are allowed a maximum of 60 hours or $30 a month. For women with dependents this was admittedly insufficient but the best that could be worked out to date.

"In many places the maximum for men is $20.00 or $30.00 a month, regardless of dependents. Glendale reported 2,400 unemployed including 600 women. Pasadena and Alhambra had hundreds of women on their lists and Santa Monica reported between three and four hundred women, 90 per cent of them with dependents.

"The women present impressed me greatly by their businesslike, efficient grasp of the problem and plans for meeting it. It gave great encouragement for the future relief in all the communities represented. I was very proud to be able to present to such a gathering a report for this little city condensed from the one given at the school house a week ago.

"Proportionately, Sierra Madre has the same problems and the method worked out here received commendation from these women. The chairman particularly commended two points: that the transients were treated as real human beings even though the help we were able to give them was small; and, especially, that a study was made of each individual local case and the work allotted accordingly. That was one point stressed by several speakers—that they had found the need of case study and records, that a flat rate per month for all applicants was unsatisfactory and unjust. They commended Sierra Madre for having made this a part of the relief program from the outset.

"This makes three times recently the Sierra Madre plan has received warm commendation from outside sources. Mr. Harriman, county superintendent of charities, with his enthusiastic praise at the school auditorium meeting; Mr. A. L. Schaffer, Red Cross Director for the seven states comprising the Pacific Coast Division, complimented us at the Kiwanis lunch a week ago and told us to keep it up, and now these women who are wrestling with the same problems we are, only on a larger scale. It strengthens us to keep up the good work."

TELLS AUDIENCE HOW CHINESE CURE ILLS

The Chinese idea of medicines and their use, and personal experiences of more than 20 years residence in the Far East was the subject of an address last night before the Men's Community Club. Principal speaker of the evening was Dr. J. Earl Gossard, whose remarks covered events which befell him during an extensive practice among the Chinese.

Many women, wives and friends of members of the club, attended the meeting at the invitation of President Elmer A. Green. For their benefit a special showing of a number of Chinese curios was held, with Mrs. Gossard explaining history of the objects.

MISS JESSIE E. SAMUELS PASSES AWAY AT PALMS
Miss Jessie E. Samuels of 69 Suffolk avenue, passed away at the Southern California Sanitarium, at Palms, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Samuels had resided in Sierra Madre for the past seven years and enjoyed a large circle of friends. Before coming to Sierra Madre Miss Samuels resided in Claremont where she was connected with Pomona college. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. C. J. Chamberlain of Santa Monica, and a cousin, Miss Florence Mayre, of Sierra Madre. Services will be held at the Grant Chapel at 2 p.m. Friday.

Patent leather pumps set off the chic costume.

RARE STAMPS ARRIVE AT POST OFFICE HERE

For stamp collectors two potent attractions existed this week at the post office. One was the "Washington Bi-centennial" stamp and the other the "Lake Placid 3rd Olympic Winter Games" stamp.

Demand for both stamps has been good, according to Mrs. J. H. Wright, postmistress. The Washington stamp comes in denominations from one-half cent to ten cents, while the Lake Placid stamp is of the two cent variety. The Lake Placid stamp, a fine example of stamp engraving, is red, and depicts a ski jumper soaring high in the air on a record jump.

PUBLIC ASKED TO JOIN WITH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN NAMING OF STREETS HERE

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors to be held next Monday, is to be devoted chiefly to discussion of the proposal to change the name of Central avenue to Sierra Madre boulevard, in accordance with the suggestion made at the meeting of the street-naming committee of the City Planners in Pasadena on January 29.

The plan to have North Huntington Drive renamed Sierra Madre Boulevard from San Marino, through Pasadena, the county territory, Sierra Madre and Arcadia, has the endorsement of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce and unofficial expressions of approval from the other communities involved, according to J. O. Smith, chairman of the subcommittee appointed from these various communities.

He called attention to the fact that the change would do away with the constant confusion resulting from two Huntington Drives in Pasadena. He added: "This change, of course, would involve the renaming of the present Sierra Madre avenue, and the committee will welcome suggestions for that street. The rules laid down by the City Planners must be observed, however. They require that no name shall be recommended that is already in use in the San Gabriel Valley or Pasadena section. Also they strongly urge that new names of genuine local historic interest be used when ever possible."

W. E. Craig, president of the Chamber of Commerce said: "With the opening of the road through the Hastings Ranch in the near future, this project of having the through street into this city named Sierra Madre boulevard, is of very real importance. Any property owner here should be able instantly to realize the value of the proposed change. I hope we have a good attendance Monday night. We want a representative expression of opinion from the property owners on Central and Sierra Madre avenues especially. The discussion will open about 8 o'clock in the council room at the City Hall."

JUNIORS TO SPONSOR A VALENTINE DANCE

The Junior League of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club is sponsoring a Valentine dance on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the clubhouse, 270 West Central avenue. The dance will be semi-restricted for members and their friends.

The results of the Junior President's Council and arrangements for the dance were discussed last Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Juniors. Members brought gifts of used furniture and decorations for their club room. Everyone with old furniture, which they wish to discard, is urged to get in touch with a junior member.

Medals Here For Essays By Children

Only the birthday of George Washington will be observed this year in Sierra Madre, and even that observance will be simple. No plans for a civic observance of Lincoln's birthday has been planned, according to Commander A. H. Embree, of the American Legion.

In suspense and trepidation a group of fifth and sixth grade students of the public school today awaited action by their teachers. Only it wasn't disciplinary action, but the typing of the students' essays on "George Washington."

Sixteen essays are to be typed by teachers at the school, and from this number two will be selected by a special program held in the school auditorium on February 19.

Essays written by pupils of St. Rita's school are also finished, and are being typed for final perusal of contest judges.

The essays, based on various features of the life of George Washington, were written as part of an American Legion program for observance of the bi-centennial celebration of the birth of America's first president. The local legion post sponsored the contest in Sierra Madre.

A committee comprising Commander A. H. Embree, of the Legion, Miss Elizabeth Steinerberger, principal of the public school, and Rev. Father Hyacinth Clary, of St. Rita's Shrine, has charge of the contest. Another committee of three, as yet unnamed, will select the prize winning essays.

The awards will be made by the Legion Emblem division, and prizes have been sent from Washington. Following the presentation in the auditorium several groups of children will present tableaux based on the life of Washington.

The Legion contest award in the auditorium will be the only public school activity celebrating Washington's birthday, according to Miss Steinerberger. On Lincoln's birthday, students of each classroom will hear their teachers read short biographical papers on the Emancipator's life.

An explanation of the appalling death rate is found in the annual report of the State Motor Vehicle Department which shows that during 1931 the licenses of 779 drunken drivers were revoked. A total of 1775 licenses were recalled, of which 71 were for reckless driving.

Robert G. Leo, 65-year-old jobless telegrapher, believes in charity. Unemployed for the past 10 years, Mr. Leo, notified that he may inherit part of a $20,000 estate, said he would keep only $25,000 of his share, giving the rest to charity.

Los Angeles County has just been awarded $1,362,240 out of the $6,663,062 collected by the State as automobile license fees in 1931. The sum will be divided equally between the State and the counties in proportion to the number of licenses issued to each county. The State's share goes into highway maintenance. San Francisco's share is $249,657.

The campaign to add another gadget to the automobile dashboard is still under way. This time it is a trick traffic light. Miniature red and green lights, according to an electronics engineer speaking in New York, would be energized through use of high frequency inductor cables along curbs and detector tubes in the car.

British naval authorities have decided that loss of the submarine M-2, with 52 officers and men, resulted from carrying an airplane aboard a submarine. The disaster, it is believed, occurred when the craft submerged before the water-tight door of the plane's hangar was closed, and the consequent rush of water flooded the ship.

President Hoover will officially open the nine-months, nation-wide George Washington Bicentennial celebration at noon (Eastern standard time) February 22, when he will deliver his George Washington address before a joint meeting of Congress. The Judges of the Supreme Court (members of the Cabinet, foreign diplomats and many other distinguished visitors also will be present, and the address will be carried to every corner of America over a nation wide hookup.

Bethany And 500 Churches Arrange Olympia Roll Call

Bethany Church of Sierra Madre is cooperating with the Evangelistic committee of the Los Angeles Ministerial Federation in an "Olympiad of Religion," says Rev. William Duncan Ogg. "The Olympiad of Religion is a united effort of over 500 churches to make new friends for the church and renew old friendships of the church," he says. "It is hoped that many persons who have lapsed may return to their old loyalty. Bethany church as one of the cooperating churches wants to do her part in Sierra Madre in providing that needed something."

"The 14th, 21st and 28th inst. are church roll call Sundays in over 500 churches in and around Los Angeles. Bethany Church extends an invitation to attend our roll call services the three remaining Sundays of February."

TELLS OF WORK IN SHANGHAI MISSION

Faith work in Shanghai, Bethel Mission, which has many times been endangered by bombs, which destroyed adjoining property, was told by Miss Foss, assistant of Dr. Mary Stone, distinguished Chinese woman, on Friday evening at the Pilgrim church, Windsor Lane. Miss Foss gave a short sketch of the lives of some of the native converts in China.

Due to illness Dr. Stone was unable to speak as she had planned. Rev. Katharine Hollowell, pastor of the church, hopes to secure Dr. Stone for a March meeting.

Interesting Acknowledgement Of Gifts Comes With Presents For Local Students From Far-Off East

A show case in the hall of the Sierra Madre grammar school today exhibited objects sent pupils by little Japanese friends in the Shimane Prefecture, Japan. Correspondence between the schools is one phase of the work carried on by the Junior Red Cross, which has a membership in more than 50 foreign countries.

The display contains many lovely objects, including Japanese dolls, sandals, pictures, toy furniture, games and other objects. But the most interesting of all is the English translation which accompanied the letter in Japanese sent with the presents. It reads:

"Our Dear Friends:
"Very, very cold winds blew.
"The trees and grasses in the field and hill has swept bitterly in winter season. But it is over. Now happy spring has come and it is giving us a cheerful hope.
"Every day we are going to school, spending in peace and having a good health.
"A few days ago our principal showed us many various toys that send by you, dear American friends.
"On seeing the curious presents,

how glad we should be!
"We will keep them willingly in our school for a long while.
"Both teachers and pupils in our school thank you for your kindness.

"Your country and mine is so far away that the present started from your hand on Xmas arrived it here in the first of Spring.
"At the end of this letter we bless your healthy learning.
Good bye

Your beloved little pupils in the Primary School, Masuda, Shimane Prefecture, Japan."

TRAVEL IS CHEAP OVER NEXT HOLIDAY

Holiday travel over Washington's birthday will have the benefit of "cent-a-mile" fares on Southern Pacific lines throughout California and five other western states, it was announced today by G. W. Wetherby, district passenger agent.

Originated by Southern Pacific just a year ago, the so-called "dollar day" merchandising of train rides, facturing 100 miles for $1, represents the outstanding passenger traffic innovation of recent years, Wetherby declared.

BOYS DUCKED TOWN MARSHAL IN OLD DAYS

didn't in his cagy, experienced way, say where it was.

"Oh," sezee, "about 30 miles from here. We don't know yet whether it's any good or not. Be able to tell better some weeks from now."

Coyotes are seen in town even now, but the days that Chantry recalls knew mountain lions and playful deer that broke their necks jumping into chicken yards.

"The biggest lion I ever saw was killed a piece over here on Baldwin ranch. This was sheep country then. This cat came down for food and the sheep dogs got after it. They brought it down and kept it while the herder got his gun. The beast measured 9 feet 6 inches and the muscles of his foreleg were as big as my thigh!"

And Mr. Chantry's thigh, gentle readers, is as large as yours and yours, and yours.

This district was playful, as well as wild, once, he said.

"El Monte was a wild place. It had one hotel, one store and 10 saloons. San Gabriel was a quiet place, too. So long as the daylight lasted, then it woke up."

Mixup In Accounts

"Sierra Madre," he said, "usta have a marshal, but he never had to go get his man alone. There were plenty of the boys to go, too."

One marshal, who also performed duties of tax collector, had a real "cushy" job.

"He kinda cost the town money. He got his books all mixed up and they wouldn't balance by between $100 and $200. So the council had them audited, paying nice money for it, and then the books wouldn't balance by between $500 and $600. They decided they'd better let it go at that."

Another marshal wasn't much liked by boys of the town. Shortly after the swimming pool in the canyon was built the boys evened up old scores.

"Yes," Chantry said, and a gay mischievous light appeared in his eye. "Marshal Webb went up to the pool one afternoon. He made a mistake—stood too close to the edge—and a couple of the boys threw him in!"

It wasn't wild here in 1910, not much, said Chantry.

Packed Gun In 1910

"No, it wasn't wild. Of course, we all packed guns in them days, even in 1910, but it didn't mean anything."

"I remember the days," recalls Mr. Chantry, once proprietor of the largest string of pack burros, serving back country visitors, "when six and eight 3-car trains came to Sierra Madre daily. There was one night that is still vivid in my mind, when 3,000 hikers waited at 'track end' for the 7 o'clock train back to town."

The busy period lasted about 15 years, Chantry says. Then, among other things, the city council passed legislation that handed a death blow to burro trains.

"Somebody found fault with hearing our burros how and snort. Then city council passed an ordinance limiting the 'parking' period for burros. That started the trouble," said Mr. Chantry, "because hikers had to walk too far before they found a burro to take 'em into the mountains. And then, I guess prohibition had something to do with it. This used to be a fine place for people who wanted to have a happy week-end with a bottle."

The "burro" ordinances were progressive affairs, all intended to "put Chantry out of business" and costing the city upwards of $2,000 in printing and other costs. And, although time did put him out of business, Mr. Chantry declared the council failed.

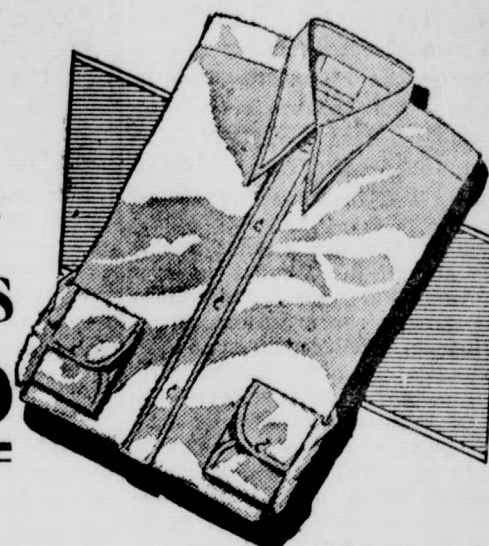

The first ordinance said that owners of pack trains could only park three burros to a lot; the next said only one burro to a lot, the next no burro within the town territory, and finally you couldn't even lead a burro up the street. Eventually Chantry, who had the largest string, was arrested. He was given a jury trial and appeared in court equipped only with a dictionary. Every witness and there were many, was asked if they had seen Chantry feeding the beasts. They answered "No." Chantry then addressed the jury thus: "Gentlemen, I've been charged with keeping stock in Sierra Madre. These witnesses have all denied seeing me feed my animals. I have here a Webster's dictionary which defines the keeping of stock as the feeding of them. No one saw me feed 'em, therefore I haven't been keeping them."

After five minutes deliberation the jury found him not guilty.

Unique Features At Auto Party Of Friendship Club

The Social Hall of the Congregational Church was cleverly converted into a huge garage as a setting for the Automobile Party given on Monday evening by the ladies of the Friendship Club in honor of their husbands.

The hostesses, Mrs. H. M. Wilhelm, chairman; Mrs. William Adwell, Mrs. Clarence Barker and Mrs. Roy Pickett, who were responsible for the unique party, were attired in service station uniforms. Guests were divided into four groups, each group representing a popular make of car. Each group contested in the various games for high score. Warren O. Preston was awarded the door prize—a toy automobile sedan. A "filling station" provided the refreshments, which consisted of gasoline (coffee), spare tires (doughnuts) and patches (sandwiches). Sixty guests attended.

GUILTY BOY BURGLAR TO ASK FOR PROBATION

Wood. He was permitted to plead guilty to one of the several counts of burglary against him, and at the same time he served notice that he would apply for probation. He will be sentenced next Monday.

By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener
COLOR FOR THE SUMMER
GARDEN

LAST WEEK we were talking about making our gardens more colorful so that we might delight the eye of our summer visitors. We took up the planting of the parking-strips with flowering ground-covers.

This week our subject will be color in and about the yard, starting with flowering shrubs that bloom during the summer months.

Oleanders are particularly valuable because of their easy culture and because they will thrive in the hottest and driest situations. There is a new single light-red variety that is very showy and bright as well as very free blooming. The older double rose-pink and double salmon pink are splendid sorts, also the single white and the single light-pink.

Hibiscus has been mentioned many times in these columns as it is a great favorite here in Sierra Madre. In fact, I find among our friends of the trade that Sierra Madre is quite noted for its Hibiscus. The single red is by far the best and most popular of the colors. It is the most hardy, the most free blooming and striking of them all. During the hot summer months the flowers attain immense size.

Mound Of Gold

The double-pink is a splendid variety too. The flowers are very large and double during the hot weather but during the cold months the flowers are only semi-double. There are several other good colors, but they are not so widely used because they are somewhat more tender. The double-red is rather off-color as it is neither pink nor scarlet—more like a faded red. Hibiscus want full sun. When we have mild winters they will bloom practically every day of the year.

Streptosolium Jamsoni is like a mound of gold when it is in bloom, which is all spring and summer. It is low spreading shrub with golden-yellow bell-shaped flowers in masses. It requires a hot, sunny situation.

Buddleia or Summer Lilac is a fast growing shrub which is covered with long panicles of fragrant lilac colored flowers in the summer. It grows about eight or ten feet high and should be given lots of room in which to develop.

A small plant will grow into a large shrub in one season.

Use Of Plumbago
Plumbago is used as either a shrub or vine. If planted without a support, it will make a large mass which is valuable for filling up vacant corners or hiding fences, etc. It is covered with clear azure blue flowers during the summer and fall. Sometimes it is used for covering large banks or terraces. It will grow like a native plant without water after it is once established. It should be given plenty of room as it will grow into a large shrub.

Crepe Myrtle will tower above the summer shrubbery with its bright pink mass of bloom. It needs a sunny situation. I have seen old plants of Crepe Myrtle that were as large as trees.

Coral tree or Erythrina Crista Galli is quite the most showy of all our summer flowering trees. I have described this tree several times before but for those who do not know about it, will say that the Coral tree has a thick corky trunk, sending out much new growth in the spring on which are produced long sprays of crimson flowers shaped like large sweet-peas. The tree needs much pruning in the winter when it is dormant to keep it shapely. There are some splendid specimens of the Coral Tree growing on the grounds belonging to Dr. and Mrs. Barlow that attract a great deal of attention in the summer.

An Old Reliable

Lantana will give more color for the least effort of anything in the summer garden. The hotter the weather the brighter and more profusely will the lantana bloom. The dwarf growing varieties are best for all purposes. They come in enough shades to please all tastes. There are red, orange, bright yellow, cream yellow, white and pink and also the trailing lavender. A small plant put out when the weather begins to warm up will become a large plant by July. They are valuable to plant in front of shrub masses for color, for hedges, for walls, and to cover ground.

The Duranta will grow into a large shrub with sprays of delicate blue flowers followed by yellow berries in the winter.

(Next week, Perennials and Annuals for summer bloom.)

MISSION SOCIETY TO HEAR TALK ON INDIA

ALONG THE FOOTHILLS

Every city employee in Upland has volunteered to accept a 10 per cent wage reduction. San Bernardino county officials recently ordered a 10 per cent cut for all county employees that is now effective.

Mrs. W. W. Nash, a member of the Republican County committee and who resides at 1500 Old Mill Road, San Marino, has announced her candidacy for Congress. She is president of the San Marino Legion Auxiliary.

The new post of Veterans of Foreign Wars that is to represent the western end of the San Gabriel valley and to have headquarters in the Arcadia Masonic Temple is to be known as "Lucky Baldwin Post No. 2070."

Citrus growers in combatting the invasion of Jack Frost in the Upland district have used approximately 740,000 gallons of oil, it was revealed in a survey. It is one of the largest orchard heating seasons of the district but due to the alertness of growers and an ample supply of oil the damage to citrus crops has been remarkably small.

No change will be made in the policy of the Chaffey high school campus concerning student dances—the matter being settled again when the Chaffey board of education at Ontario turned down the request of students to permit this social activity. A lengthy petition was presented by the students, but the board also considered many letters of protest from parents and citizens of the school district.

In a religious census just completed by three churches in Glendora 2541 persons were enrolled as professing Christianity, of which 2440 were classed as Protestants and 101 as Roman Catholics. There was no one of the Jewish faith. One of the outstanding facts in the data is the tremendously large number of people in the community classed as "Protestants without any church affiliation." This number totalled 1164 persons, amounting to almost one half of the entire Protestant population.

S. A. Willits, San Gabriel real estate dealer, has been held for trial accused of circulating false reports concerning the condition of a bank. He was arrested on complaint of George C. Brooks, vice-president of the First National Bank of Monterey Park. The arrest of Willits is the third in Southern California recently for asserted violation of the State law which makes it a misdemeanor or knowingly and falsely to circulate rumors that a financial institution is insolvent or make other statements of a derogatory nature.

Supervisor Grier of San Bernardino county will ask the convention of County Supervisors to be held in San Bernardino this week to endorse a tax reform initiative amendment he has prepared for submission to the electorate at the November election. ## Start Work Soon On New Highway In San Gabriel Canyon

The $1,300,000 highway in San Gabriel valley leading to Pasadena's new Pine Canyon dam, will shortly get started. Surveys have been completed, and the contracts will soon be let. The present road on the floor of the canyon will be flooded. The road will be 7.2 miles in length and will end at the county work camp in San Gabriel Canyon.

Pasadena is to pay its share with an understanding that it shall not exceed $500,000. The Los Angeles County Flood Control District will pay 30 per cent of the cost and 10 per cent of the cost will be borne by each of the following agencies: State Highway Commission, United States Forest Service, and Los Angeles County Road Department. The United States Bureau of Public Works will be in direct charge of the highway construction.

The San Gabriel Canyon road will have a 200-foot minimum radius on curves and a maximum grade of 6 per cent.

January Brought One New Baby To Sierra Madre Home

But one birth occurred in Sierra Madre during January, while the beckoning hand of Father Time raised the death rate to four, it was disclosed Wednesday in a report made by Dr. J. N. Furstman, district health officer, to City Council.

Home visits by the public health nurse totaled 94. Twenty-nine sanitation inspections were made, covering concerns dealing in foodstuffs, and hotels and dwelling places. In only two cases was it necessary to order that unsanitary practices be abated.

Laboratory tests totaling 289 were made by the health officer, with the majority involving bacteriological tests of milk dispensed throughout the district.

ELLETT JACKSON'S NAME OMITTED THROUGH ERROR

Through an error the name of Ellett Jackson was printed as Elliott Johnson with the members of the sixth grade graduating class of the local Grammar School in last week's issue.

WITH THE board members

and chairman of the Los Angeles district of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs, and presidents from 41 neighboring clubs in attendance, Wednesday's Reciprocity Breakfast at the Woman's Club became one of the important events in the local organization's long and splendid history.

The breakfast tables were beautifully decorated by Mrs. Emile E. Smith. Long ribbons in pastel hues caught at intervals with spring blossoms were used overhead in a lattice effect. Large squares of moss in the center of each table contained bouquets of flowers tied with elaborate bows of satin ribbon in pastel shades, and a tall lighted taper in the center. At the speakers' table were three high table standards beautifully decorated. The Japanese umbrellas covered with flowers, as well as the dainty corsages of jonquills and sweet peas aroused much enthusiastic comment.

From this picturesque setting Miss Virginia Jones, as club president, graciously presided and presented district officers, among whom were Mrs. Charles C. Hudson, vice-president; Mrs. Frederick Allen, the representative of Mrs. Van de Water, president; Mrs. A. S. Brown, recording secretary; Mrs. Alan Dibble, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl Plath, treasurer; Mrs. George Winsworth, auditor; Mrs. Hibbs, federation extension; and Harriet Simpson Wright, the president emerita of the Sierra Madre Club. Each responded with a brief talk. District chairman and presidents from out of town clubs were also presented. Miss Jones then presented Mrs. Emile Smith who was given an ovation in appreciation of her skilled decorative work.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Fletcher White, as program chairman, charmingly presided. Miss Orlene Burrows, of Sierra Madre, accompanied by Miss Jean Howard, of Los Angeles at the piano, presented a group of violin solos among which were "Hymn to the Sun," by Rimsky Korsokow; "Valse Bluettes," Drigo Auer; "Songs My Mother Taught Me," Dvorak; "L'Abellie," Schubert; "Slavonic Dance," Dvorak; "Jota," DeFalla; "Le Plus Que Lente," Debussy; and "Danse Espagnole," from "L'Avant-Brève" by DeFalla.

Mr. Donald Thayer, baritone, in honor of his wife, Carolyn Stevens Thayer, presented the following numbers, "Evening Star" from Tannhauser; "Home on the Range," Guion; "It is Enough" from Elijah; "E Malgre Moi," Priefer; "Homing" by Del Riego. Encores included "Silvia," "Trees" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

"Personal and Intimate Glimpses of George Washington," by Mrs. W. E. Hitchcock will be the feature of the morning program on Wednesday, February 24. There will be a box-luncheon at 12:30 when Mrs. O. B. Manchester will give a literature review of books portraying American life.

The garden section postponed its meeting as scheduled for last week and will meet at 10 o'clock in the clubhouse on Monday, February 15, for a conference with representatives of P.T.A. and Esther Forman Garden Club, to advance the Olympiad Beautification program.

Concentration on Central avenue as entrance to Sierra Madre will be made and the cooperation of all citizens is asked in beautifying their parkways and gardens. The garden section of the club is sponsoring the planting of parkways; the planning commission in cooperation with the city will take care of the follow-up work. Every effort is being made to fully represent our town in this work in preparation for the Olympiad.

Mrs. Griebenow calls the attention of art section members to the meeting to be held at 10:30 Saturday, February 12 at B'nai Brith Synagogue when Rabbi Magnin will speak on murals by Hugo Balin, Rabbi Schatz who started a school of art in Jerusalem is exhibiting at the synagogue.

Miss Tufts Files Answer In Contest On Lankershim Will

The present fight over the will of Col. James B. Lankershim, is of unusual interest to Sierra Madreans because the will being contested is the one that bequeathed to Alice E. Tufts, of 159 West Montecito avenue a fortune estimated at $200,000.

Under the contested will one-tenth is divided among four employees, Alice E. Tufts, H. O. Moulton and James and Mary Pringle. Miss Tufts was Col. Lankershim's secretary for many years.

Attorney Oscar Lawler filed an answer for Alice E. Tufts, H. O. Moulton and Mr. and Mrs. James Pringle. Attorney Phil S. Gibson filed for Fred Melville Foster. Attorney J. Wiseman McDonald prepared his own reply.

DOCTOR TO TELL MEN OF CONDITIONS IN CHINA

A regular monthly meeting of the Men's Community Club will be held in the social rooms of the Congregational church on the evening of Thursday, February 18th. Dr. J. Earl Gossard, of Sierra Madre, President Elmer A. Green has secured Dr. W. E. Macklin who is living at present in San Gabriel, to speak on "Present Conditions in China."

A lovely dinner party was given on Saturday evening by Mrs. Blanche Buie at her home, 257 West Laurel avenue. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tallman Trask, Miss Adelaide Ticknor of Pasadena; Joseph Michaels of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Pearl Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tyree and Mr. and Mrs. John Buchanan.

Favorite Recipes of Sierra Madreans

THIS is Mrs. William Lees' favorite recipe for a Fruit Salad to serve a number of people.

FRUIT SALAD
1 box Knox' gelatine; 2 cups granulated sugar; juice of 5 lemons; 1 dozen bananas; sugar. Soak gelatine in 1 pint cold water then add 1 pint boiling water. When dissolved add sugar and lemon juice. Pare and divide oranges and bananas and sprinkle lightly with sugar and pour gelatine over the fruit and set in a cool place. Add any other fruit desired. Candied cherries and pineapple are a delicious combination. Mold in cups if preferred.

In A Social Way

The Keene family of 190 Santa Anita Court, entertained at dinner on Sunday. Guests included Mrs. H. C. Fremming and children, and Miss Alice Sloan of Long Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilson of 472 Grove street, will entertain Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Doodson of Santa Monica, at their home on Sunday. If the weather permits Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, their daughter Betty and their guests will enjoy horseback riding in Santa Anita Canyon.

Honoring the 74th birthday of her father, J. D. Sparks, Mrs. Conners L. Twycross of 123 South Baldwin avenue, entertained on Sunday with a family birthday dinner. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker and small daughter, Shirley Ann, of Los Angeles, and the honoree and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sparks, of Pasadena.

A lovely house party was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. W. T. McKee, 618 West Highland avenue, over the weekend. Guests included Mrs. Mary Elliott, of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nichols, Mrs. K. Morsehead and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shatford, of Monrovia, and Mrs. G. Armstrong of Nova Scotia.

A miscellaneous bridal shower for Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, formerly Miss Eleanor Schallert of Monrovia, who was married on January 8, was given on Friday evening by Mrs. Harold Spears at her home, 649 West Grand View avenue. The Valentine motif was carried out in decorations. Games of hearts and the bride's name furnished an interesting evening. Those present were Misses Dorothy Wood, Alice De Sonnaville, Katherine Taylor, Dorothy Millard, Fern Pickering, Hilda Ryan and May Sammon, Mrs. Mamie Bowman, Mrs. S. V. Watson, Mrs. Schallert, the hostess and the honoree.

NEW RADIOS ON SHOW

The Sierra Madre Furniture Company of North Baldwin avenue, has added four new R.C.A.-Victor superheterodyne radios to its radio department. This company services radios of all makes.

Mrs. Robert Vickers, of Virginia City, Mont., has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vickers, of 279 East Grand View avenue, for the past week. Mrs. Vickers, now 86 years of age, and the late Mr. Vickers, were active in the progress of Virginia City, famous mining town of pioneer days. Mrs. Vickers is the guest each winter of her daughters, Mrs. Luther Budford and Mrs. Walter Brown, of Long Beach.

If stimulants do not agree with you try this old fashioned brew. It is healthful food.

To 1-3 cup of Natural Raw Milk add 2-3 cup of boiling water, sugar to taste.

This is good for children and the rich cream gives a delicious flavor. Use this natural milk. Nature's finest food... Let us serve you.
